ANDREW ERWIN CUMMINS

Theta Upsilon Omega mourns the sudden passing, on November second, of the Honorable Andrew Erwin Cummins, a member of the famous class of '01 of the Lambda Alpha chapter at Westminster College.

Born January 22, 1880, Brother Cummins was graduated from Hickory Academy in 1897, and entered Westminster. There his stature and physique made him an outstanding athlete. He was one of the nine members of the 1901 class of Lambda Alpha; a classmate, legal associate and intimate friend of Arch Master McGinness.

After graduation from Westminster he entered the Law School of Western University of Pennsylvania (now the University of Pittsburgh). He graduated from there with the degree of Bachelor of Laws in 1905. In the same year he passed the State Board of Law examinations for admission to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania as well as the examinations for admission to the bars of Allegheny and Washington Counties.

In 1919 Judge Cummins was elected District Attorney of Washington County, Pennsylvania. In this office he showed his characteristic courage and initiative and made a highly satisfactory record as a fearless and able public prosecutor. It was only natural that he was appointed to fill a vacancy on the Common Pleas bench of his native county on February 7, 1922, and the following year elected for a full term of ten years.

This term would have expired the first Monday of January, 1934, and Brother Cummins was in the midst of a vigorous campaign for re-election at the time of his death.

His years on the bench were characterized by tireless energy. On the very day of his death he had been working on a legal opinion. Lying on his desk after he passed away were an open law book and penciled notes of the opinion he was preparing. He enjoyed his work as judge. He was zealous for the law, and yet he tempered his judgments with mercy.

Tributes at his funeral bore testimony to the honor and esteem in which he was held. Messages were received from members of the bar and public officials in Washington and New York, as well as all parts of Pennsylvania. A vast crowd, which required more than an hour to file past the casket, waited patiently in the rain to pay its last respects to Judge Cummins.

Judge Cummins was survived by his widow, Eva Dodds Cummins, who has always shared his deep interest in Theta Upsilon Omega.

The fraternity was represented at the funeral by Arch Master McGinness and others.

1880--James J. Nungesser--1933

We regret to announce the untimely death of Mr. James J. Nungesser, head of the printing company which has for many years printed THE OMEGAN. A sympathetic understanding enabled him to render many valuable services to the fraternity and the Arch Editor, in particular, will miss his cooperation.

DEAN WEGLE ADVISES STEVENS FRATERNITIES ON MAINTAINING HIGH STANDARDS

A. E. BLIRER, Γ A (Stevens) '35

John C. Wegle, Assistant Dean at Stevens Institute of Technology, recently sent out another of his frequent advisory letters to the members of the Interfraternity Council at Stevens. His suggestions are so excellent, so timely and so practical that they deserve a wider circulation.

The occasion of the letter was the annual rushing season under the rules laid down by the Council, and it was concerned mainly with the scholarship of the local chapters and their prospective pledges. He said in part:

"The primary purpose of an institution of higher learning is to train its undergraduates for a life of usefulness. Each fraternity should have as one of its purposes the desire to assist in making this training vital. The classroom work has a legitimate part in this scheme. You should, therefore, be interested in taking into active membership students who can finish successfully their academic career.

"Looking at the matter purely and simply from your own point of view, you cannot develop real chapter spirit or make good fraternity men of students who migrate with the examination periods. Self-preservation demands a fairly stable chapter. Scholarship happens to be the tell-tale that regulates the college exit of students more than any other factor. For this reason, it would be foolish for any chapter to ignore the question of scholarship. You cease to be really effective agent in the educational program of your college and in the efficiency of your own organization unless you maintain a satisfactory scholarship standard.

"I trust the following suggestions may prove helpful in this phase of your activity.

1. Rules alone will not build up scholarship. Some chapters which have excellent rules are low in scholarship. There must be a belief that it is worth while to do good work. A tradition should exist that it is a member's duty to do his work well, that a man who does not is disgracing not only himself but also his fraternity.

2. If you have a scholarship committee, have its members students who are interested and who set good examples.

3. Start at the beginning of the semester. Make your plans early and keep it up.

4. Each member should realize the importance of steady consistent work from the beginning.

5. Men low in scholarship, regardless of class, can be penalized. I doubt if good scholarship can be accomplished through fear of the paddle.

6. If a member should become too low in scholarship, he should be advised to withdraw from college. He should go elsewhere, where he can spend his time more profitably. All chapters should be efficient in eliminating the unfit.

7. Any member who is low should have the cordial assistance of some brother capable of helping him.

8. Study rooms should be clean, orderly, well-heated and lighted. An environment conducive to hard work is necessary.

9. Important for each member to know is that the most efficient way to keep up his work is to keep it up daily. Never get behind.

10. Knowing how to plan your time efficiently is a valuable asset to you when you get out of college, as well as when you are an undergraduate.

11. It is the duty of each member to help his brother, to assist him and not tempt him away from his work by word or deed.

12. Each member should cultivate a feeling of responsibility not only for himself, but for others.

13. Don't nag. Help in a constructive way. Fraternal spirit means a spirit of helpfulness.

14. Keep at it. Stay on the job.

"In making the next statement, I am not unmindful of the fact that the fraternity man carries a large part of the burden of extracurricular activities, so any criticism of his scholarship must be modified by this fact. Nevertheless, the report reveals a condition most unsatisfactory in some cases, particularly when individual members' records are analyzed. In these cases, the oft-repeated charges that fraternity men have obtained a complete divorce from intellectual activities seems to be well founded. On the other hand, some chapters have improved their records and are standing better scholastically than they did in previous years. This result must be gratifying to every chapter which has shown such an improvement.

"It is my belief from experience and observation that it is not the lack of honest purpose which thwarts the success of many, but foolish and trifling practices which some of you allow yourselves to acquire and which others have allowed you to retain from the past, such as improper allocation of your time; undue concentration on certain subjects and certain activities; careless habits of work; slack and slovenly work; accumulation of handicaps by way of early failures; loafing; lack of application and definite purposefulness; illness; poor attendance, etc.

"Some of the practices enumerated above, innocent at their beginning, but encroaching more and more on your time, become serious evils. You have come to college to receive an education. This should be your main interest. The field of knowledge which ought to be covered in a four years' college course is altogether too wide to permit many diversions from the main purpose. So study first, then recreation—all the pleasanter for having been earned."

Dean Wagle's letter was accompanied by a report of the scholastic standing of the eleven chapters of national fraternities on the Stevens campus. In this list T.U.O. stood fourth with 1.47. Phi Sigma Kappa headed the list with 1.62. The average of all fraternity men was 1.33, and of all students was 1.41.

A QUARTER-MILLENIUM

We are indebted to Arch Master S. W. McGinness for the following account of a memorable gathering of Pennsylvania T.U.O's.

The snapshot exhibited herewith reproduces quite faithfully the homely but honest countenances of eight youths of the Lambda Alpha Associate Chapter, representing 256 Westminster alumni years, as these fraters gathered on September 30, 1933, at the summer cottage of Brother McKim at Conneaut Lake, Pennsylvania, where, for four days, this group, with ten other kindred spirits (but no other "spirits") held a continuous "bull session," interspersed with a lot of golf, boating and motoring and even an attendance of ten men at church on Sunday morning.

Harry Phythyon, 1898; Samuel J. McKim, 1899; Herbert Patterson, 1905; Marrion M. Edmundson, 1901; William Bruce McCrory, 1901; Samuel W. McGinness, 1901; Robert N. Grier, 1901; Gilbert F. Zehner, 1902.

A word or two with reference to these brothers may be of interest. All of them are lawyers except the genial host, Sam McKim, who is Judge of the County Court of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, and Harry Phythyon, who is a Pennsylvania State Mine Inspector. The latter was an outstanding short-stop back in the days when baseball was a major sport. McKim was a star at basketball. Patterson was a champion tennis player and served as varsity coach for many years following his graduation. Edmundson is probably the all-time athlete of the College, his equal at third base, left half, and forward being hard to find in the records of old Westminster. At about fifty he took up golf and, notwithstanding his late start, he shoots them in the seventies. Shortly after graduation "Eddie" started to raise a baseball team of his own and has five boys, three for the out-field and two for the battery. "Eddie" himself constitutes the rest of the in-field. McCrory functions exclusively from the neck up, at least no one ever caught him working below the cervical vertebrae. He managed the baseball team, was an Intercollegiate orator and is now Master of the Lambda Alpha Associate Chapter and maintains a keen and active interest in the affairs of the fraternity and of the College. McGinness, who appears in the center of the group and who is certainly no close relative of the Seven Southerland Sisters, is the present Arch Master of the fraternity. Grier played left field on the all-time crack team of the College and is today a member of the Board of Trustees of the institution. Of course, there must be a black sheep in every flock and it is therefore admitted that Zehner is a Democrat—in fact he has been a militant Democrat since sometime back in the Gay Nineties. Aside from that, however, he is a regular fellow whose wit and geniality made him a welcome addition to any company, provided the subject of politics be studiously avoided.

ANOTHER SEASON CLOSES ON T.U.O. FOOTBALL STARS

Smith Again Leads at Temple

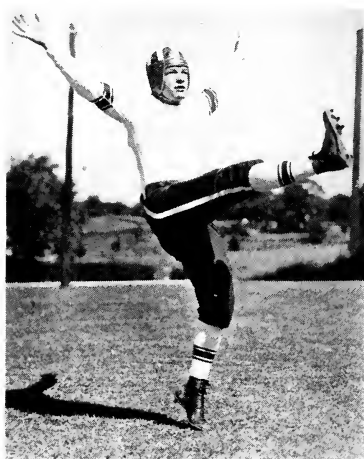

KENNETH L. KRAMER

For the first time since the days of Buchanan, Schollenberger and Buzby, Epsilon Alpha has three representatives on the varsity football squad. The men are Brother Ed Smith and Pledge Brothers Glenn Frey and Charlie Kemmerer.

Smith is the outstanding member of the trio both in seniority and football ability. Ed has been the regular guard for the past three seasons and he has played a wonderful game all the time. He gained national fame this fall when Line Coach Swan declared that Smith was the equal in every respect to Stanfords All-American guard of last year, Bill Corbus. As Swan coached Corbus in 1932 his opinion carries a great deal of weight.

EDGAR SMITH, Temple '34

GLENN FREY, Temple '36

Temple's new coach, Pop Warner, honored Smitty by appointing him as captain for the first game. Smith lead the Owls to their first victory under the Warner regime and Ed had a great deal to do with the victory. Smith was also appointed captain for the important Bucknell fray.

Smith stands about 5 feet 10 inches above the ground and he weighs 190 pounds. These measurements are almost ideal for a guard.

Pledge Brother Kemmerer is one of the biggest men on the Temple squad. He stands 6 feet 3 inches in height and he weighs 225 pounds. Last season he played regular tackle. It was his sophomore year and he was one of the most promising linemen on the squad. However, Charlie stepped into a raft of bad luck this season. He was injured during the first scrimmage of the year and was on the sidelines until the Haskell Indian tilt. He then played a very good game until he was forced to leave the game because of a badly injured left elbow. He has had his arm in a specially constructed metal brace since that game but he has hopes of being back in the starting line-up this season.

Kemmerer is a graduate of Allentown High. He was tall and heavy since the time that he was in high school and he played four years of varsity ball there. He is a junior in the School of Commerce.

Glenn Frey is the third representative of T.U.O. to scintillate for the Owl team this year. At the beginning of the year Frey found himself pretty much in the background as far as football went. He was one of four Sophomore quarterbacks being developed under the eye of Pop Warner. And Frey ranked fourth. However, he worked hard and soon mastered the Warner system. His hard work was rewarded when he was sent in as a substitute for the best half-back on the squad. Once in there, Frey proved that his prep and high school records were not accidents and he has started every game since that first substitution.

Frey has been doing the punting for the squad and he has consistently out-kicked some of the leading punters in the east. In addition to this he is a good man in the open field, and a very capable man on defense as well.

Frey graduated from Tunkhannock Pennsylvania High School and Wyoming Seminary. In prep school he was a three sport man, playing basketball, baseball and football. At Temple he has devoted all of his time to the gridiron sport. He measures 5 feet 11 inches and he weighs 180 pounds. He is a Sophomore in the School of Commerce.

Ray Groller, '34, this past season served as head manager of Pop Warner's first Temple football squad. He succeeded Curt Bicker, E A '33, in that position and was assisted by Woody Wilson, '35 and Dick Barr, '36, also members of Epsilon Alpha chapter.

Cole and Hibbard Star for Worcester Tech

L. D. ROBBINS, JR., (Worcester) '36

Beta Alpha has a man out for football who is going to make a name for himself in that sport. Soon he will hold a prominent position on the first squad and be outstanding for his speed and fighting spirit.

"Fred" Cole weights 145 pounds and is 5 foot 7 inches. He has never played football before, but he takes to the game like a duck to water. Already he has played in the backfield in several important games and caused much comment from the Worcester newspapers.

When Worcester Polytechnic Institute played Norwich, "Fred" was sent into the game when Worcester needed a touchdown badly. He started a march down the field by receiving a thirty-yard pass, while completely surrounded by Norwich men. His ability to fathom the plays of the opposition and to squeeze out of the tight spots he finds himself in, marks his ability as a football man of very promising merit.

When we consider the fact that he has never played football before and see the marked improvement that he has made since the first of the year, it is not hard to realize that here is another T.U.O. man who is going to stand above his fellow men in this field.

After an absence of a year we find that Pledge Brother Hibbard has returned to Beta Alpha, and to fight for a berth on the Worcester Tech football team. As Floyd had played class football for his first two years, he was readily aware that Coach "Pete" Bigler was in need of both ends and tackles. However he chose the latter position and went to work to gain the position away from the man that held it down last year.

Worcester Tech's football team was called back to school two weeks early this year to try to put it in shape before the first game, with the Coast Guard just two weeks after school opened. Floyd, not being on the squad the past year, was not recalled and did not start working with the squad until school opened, consequently he saw little action in the opening game. In the Trinity game Brother Hibbard played over a quarter of the game and was more than a tower of defence during that time. His playing in this game led Coach Bigler to use him for more than half of the time in the next two games, with Arnold and Norwich.

F. F. COLE

Tech's next game was with the powerful Mass. State team which is headed by Bush. Just before this game, Brother Hibbard was shifted over from tackle to end. This came as a surprise as Bush is very adept at running the ends and to have this position meant that Floyd's work in the previous games had proved more than was expected. To mention the fact that Floyd played the entire game, and was more than once responsible for stopping the slippery Bush is saying little. If Floyd continues playing the same as he has to date we can expect to see a T.U.O. man that will be long remembered in Worcester Tech's line.

Two Theta Alpha Men on New Hampshire Squad

Theta Alpha was represented on the New Hampshire gridiron this season by Leslie Pike and pledge George Murray. Leslie plays at left end and did nobly well for the time that he has played. Murray, a letter man last year, plays a brilliant game as right guard. This year George suffered a severe leg injury in the Harvard game and has been unable to play since, but at this writing it is quite probable that he will see action in the Springfield game, the last game of the season.

Two T.U.O. Veterans Play for Monmouth

In football T.U.O. again stands out at Monmouth College with Bobbie Woll the diminutive one-hundred-twenty-eight pound quarterback who is one of the best ball carriers in the Little Nineteen conference. A regular position at end is ably filled by Brother Marion Harper, while on the freshman squad Robert Brimmer is playing consistently well at end and Orville Messenger is in the fullback position.

Alabama Polytech Team has Three T.U.O. Pledges

Aubrey Hill and M. Morris, both pledges at Eta Beta Chapter played consistently good football on the varsity team at Alabama Polytechnic Institute this fall. B. S. Bishop, also a pledge, went out for the freshman team.

LOS ANGELES ALUMNI FORGET DEPRESSION WITH GOLF AND GAY DINNERS

At a time when many fraternity alumni clubs are languishing in inactivity, we find the Los Angeles Club of T.U.O. not only drawing excellent attendance at its regular meetings on the second Monday of each month at Jack Dempsey's Hotel Barbara, but also engaged in a mad social whirl. Perhaps it is the climate. However, here is an account sent us by C. R. Drenk, Δ A '26, the Secretary:

"Our first outside affair was a most enjoyable chicken dinner served at the ranch of Brother Frank Ernst in the San Fernando valley. Frank has a beautiful country home in the valley. Any direction one looks are mountains. Barren rocks they are, devoid of any but the scrawniest vegetation, yet at the time of day we arrived for the dinner, the sun was just setting, and if you have ever been in a mountainous country you need hardly be told of the varied and unending play of colors that run riot over the face of the hills. Brother Ernst is assistant farm advisor for the county, employed by the University of California, and his acres show he not only advises farmers, but actually puts into practice what he preaches.

N. B. Hodgkinson, Burke, Maxwell, ?, R. J. Kadow

"This first dinner, in the home of a member, started a friendly rivalry as to whose wife could prepare the tastiest meals. Brother Townley then had the club over to his home in San Marino for a sample of his wares. The dinner was a knockout; highballs served with a nicety, and not too much intermission enlivened the various card games that followed. Party broke up at 5 a. m.

"Brother Hedger, not to be outdone, next had the group at his home in Glendale for a buffet dinner. The dinner left nothing to be desired in the manner of cooking and quantity. Highballs fewer, but excellent. Cards played by all present 'til the wee hours. Only winner—Hedger.

"Then came an invitation from Brother Davidson to partake of his hospitality in the form of a bathing and barbecue party at his home in Costa Mesa. The minutes state that this was a most enjoyable party and that he is to be congratulated.

"When old Ironsides put into port Brother Banta had the Club visit his home for a buffet luncheon after which they visited the ship en mass. Reports have it that his home brew was O. K.

"During Navy Week, our own naval pilot and short story teller, brother Gurley, personally conducted the Club members over the airship carrier Lexington. At a later date this same brother showed moving pictures of his experiences while with the Asiatic fleet in the Orient.

"One golf tournament has been held so far with more promised for the near future. Brother Townley is low scorer to date but Graves and Hedger are giving him a close race for the honor.

"This, briefly, gives an idea of the activities of our group here. We have over thirty members of T.U.O. in Southern California and quite a number of old Tilicum Club members who have not yet affiliated. In our group are members from the chapters at Illinois, Westminster, Temple, and Miami Universities."

Brother Drenk failed to mention the party at his cabin at San Dimas. The photograph here reproduced was taken on that occasion. Since the guests arrived and departed continuously, not all of them got into the picture. As a matter of fact, not even the host is included, but he was probably busy filling glasses.

Chapter News

Beta Alpha

Worcester Polytechnic Institute

On February 22, last year, the third degree was given to thirteen members of the class of 1936: Harry Anderson, Robert Bruce, Frederick Cole, John Crane, Thomas Frary, Edward Gladding, Julius Guild, Richard Howes, Clinton Leech, Reginald Morrill, L. Dix Robbins, Raymond Schuh, and Harold Whitman.

The Beta Alpha bowlers are once again Tech Champions, having won the Interfraternity matches with a total score of 27 points, dropping only 7 points in eight games. The main stays of the team were Captain George Nicoletti, Wallace Johnson, John Crane, Herbert Gale, Henry Franklin, and Willy Hebel.

Fourth place, though actually sixth rank, was T.U.O.'s rating in last spring's interfraternity swimming meet, second and third places being tied by two fraternities each, the scores being 12, 11, 11, 10, 10, and our 7.

Interfraternity track found us in fifth place, with a second in the two-mile (Carl Bergstrom), and two thirds in the 100 and 220-yd. dashes, (Pledge Arthur Smith).

After long periods of repair and more repair, the chapter house is finally graced with a fine shower room having all the fixings of a hotel. This should prove a very desirable addition to the chapter's good points during rushweek.

Beta Alpha's tennis team has just completed its schedule for the fall. Out of the eight matches that were scheduled we won seven and lost but one to Phi Sig, the cup winners. As we placed second we still have a good lead over most of the other houses for the big athletic cup.

Our new house mascot, Minnie (or Mike, as some insist), seems to be able to hold her own in some of the brawls about the house. Many a man has felt the claws dig into the flesh. She can even find her way about the campus but about meal time happens to wander back to 30 Institute Road.

Recently we were honored by a call from some of our new brothers from Theta Beta. It sure seemed good to see them again and many memories of Beta Alpha's trip to Troy were revived. We hope that we will be able to see each other more often.

Gamma Alpha

Stevens Institute of Technology

Professor Ernst T. Franck has been appointed chapter advisor.

The scholastic record of the eleven fraternities at Stevens was recently released. Theta Upsilon Omega stood fourth highest.

The annual open house party was held on the evening of November 18 immediately following the Fall Show of the Stevens Dramatic Society. Dancing was from eleven to three, and the music was furnished by Anthony Monaco's Orchestra. The orchestra was commented upon as comparing favorably with the Cliff Club organization which we had last year. The party was held jointly with the local chapter of Alpha Kappa Pi, in consequence of the exceptional success of similar arrangements last year. Daniel F. Hoth, '35, supervised the installation of an amplifier system to carry the music to the other house. Refreshments were served at the Alpha Kappa Pi house, and most of the dancing took place at the T.U.O. house.

The large crowd attending commented on the exceptionally enjoyable evening.

Gamma Alpha is pleased to announce that William Prince, '37, has been pledged. The chapter is happy to welcome back Arthur C. Winter, '34.

Thomas Tarzy, '35, is now pledge captain.

Pledge Hugh Mills, '36, has been honored with the appointment as furnace man for the chapter house, and is demonstrating his engineering knowledge by successfully heating the first floor in spite of those brothers whose joy in life is derived from leaving the front door wide open.

Gamma Alpha is pleased to announce that William Prince, '37; Stephen Baksa, '36; and William Salvatori, '35, have become pledges to the fraternity.

The initiation of Arthur C. Winter, '34, took place on Friday, November 24, when he received the third and final degree.

Epsilon Alpha Temple University

The annual Epsilon Alpha Fall Formal was held at the beautiful Manufacturers Country Club on Saturday night, November 25. Hal Thompson and his orchestra provided excellent music.

A departure from the old method of running the dance took place this year. Instead of merely having the dance in the evening the affair was made an all-day one. The house was thrown open to visitors at eleven in the morning and the men and their fair ones had lunch there. After lunch the entire group went out to the Villanova-Temple game and sat in a section reserved for them. After the game dinner was served at the house and then the trek to the dance began. The entire day was declared to be most enjoyable by all present.

Paul Andrews was chairman of the committee. Assisting him were William Jiles, Ira Wattis and Charles Shane. The committee put on a fine dance and the chapter is indebted to them.

The house had a changed appearance when the brothers returned this year. Al Peterson, the genial steward, had been laboring on it for the greater part of the summer. He completely renovated the interior, fixed up a room on the second floor as a club and recreation room and in general made the house a much better place in which to live. The whole chapter is indebted to Al for his unselfish work.

Two rushing affairs were held in the early part of October. The first was a dinner, theater party and smoker. Over sixty men were in attendance. The second consisted of a smoker and entertainment. Neal Bowman, chapter adviser, Earl R. Yeomans, Graduate Manager of Athletics and Dr. Lund of the psychology department were the speakers.

Lowell Broomall, the outstanding musician of the campus, Dave Zinkoff, the Lost Tribesman of Temple and Bill Waldner provided the entertainment.

As a result of these successful affairs, 24 new men were pledged by the chapter. This was the greatest number of men pledged by any Temple fraternity as far back as the records extend. The total number of pledges now is 25, as Vernon Ahn returned to Philadelphia two months after school started. He was on a tramp steamer all summer and was held up by unforeseen circumstances until this late date. He will return to Temple and T.U.O. at the beginning of the second semester.

A class of six men was inducted into the fraternity at a formal initiation the night of December 5. Hell Week was held from November 6 until November 12. Charles Shane, '36, had charge of the ceremonies for the informal initiation.

The new men are: J. Paul Faust, '36, Calvin T. Dussoulas, '37, Mark E. Herrold, '36, Henry C. Westenberger, '36, Alfred E. Koch, '36, and Howard G. Williams, '36.

Eta Alpha

George Washington University

Eta Alpha chapter is pleased to announce the formal pledging on November 5, of James Cross, Edward Johnson, John Metz, Edward Andrus, James Kurtz, Howard Gatewood, and Maurice Sinclair.

Eta Alpha held its annual chapter election in May, 1933. The new officers are as follows: John Hill, master; Mintern Snider, marshal; James Phelps, scribe; Paul Newland, recorder; John Walstrom, steward; Edmund S. Van Brunt, herald; Richard Vander Zwart, chaplain.

After ranking second in scholarship during the first semester last year, Eta Alpha went to work and boosted its grade to first place for the second semester with an average of 2.53, and a lead of .19 over its nearest competitor.

President Cloyd Heck Marvin, head of the George Washington University, was guest speaker at a rush smoker September 29. Other speakers were the inimitable Elmer Louis Kayser and Alan T. Deibert.

Two informal dances were held at the newly decorated Eta Alpha house during rush week, both of which were attended by record crowds.

After a hard-fought battle, T.U.O. was nosed out of the golf matches by Sigma Nu with a 2-1 loss. Captain Jacobsen has high hopes for his team next year, even though it is out of the race this year.

Theta Alpha

University of New Hampshire

Theta Alpha is buckling right down to business this term and is proud of the fact that only three of the student warnings distributed at mid-terms found their way to its doors. The boys at the New Hampshire chapter are determined to bring T.U.O. to the top of the interfraternity average list for 1934.

The landscape around Theta Alpha has been greatly improved since the opening of the college year. Unfinished grading has been completed and new shrubbery has been placed in the vacant spaces; all of which adds much to the beauty of the front lawn.

During the summer months, Brothers Weeks and Henessey applied a new coat of paint to the house. As Weeks is a professional painter, the results cannot be given praise enough. The house stands out above all the other houses on Fraternity Row, and has been acclaimed by all as the best on the campus.

The basketball team turned out very encouraging this year, in spite of the lack of players due to the fact that many are out for varsity sports. Five games have been played so far, in which we have had two wins and three losses. The spirit displayed by the members of the team was the best ever shown for intramural sports. Several new players have been developed this season, and with only one man from the team graduating this coming June, the prospects are good for next year.

On November 4, the U.N.H. observed its annual Homecoming Day. Contrary to tradition the Wildcats lost the game to Tufts, 9 to 3. Theta Alpha was host to about 50 alumni, which surely set a new tradition for us.

Theta Alpha has become theatrically inclined. The major houses on the campus were asked to put on a brief "stunt" in order to arouse enthusiasm and promote school spirit for the Tufts—New Hampshire game.

John Giffin took the matter in hand and with the soul of an artist proceeded to write up a skit called "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Elephant?" Puny "Mike" Cummings was the lead, portraying the New Hampshire coach. Not only was he remarkably like the coach in stature but he was alike even in diction. Weaver, Summer, and Wiitala portrayed three broken-down, heel-dancing athletes whose joie de vivre was so remarkably enhanced by "Grapenuts" that they were able to defeat the Big Bad Elephant (played by Hansen and West) when he came for the rent. All in all the skit was quite original and appealed very highly to popular fancy—so much that they were able to walk off with the second place.

The high point of the skit was the elephant whose sense of control was not too great, never letting his left foot know where his right foot was, or to be more particular, keeping up appearances by extra manipulation of his ponderous hips.

Harold Clough '35, was recently initiated into the chapter.

We of Theta Alpha have acquired an affinity toward the feminine. This fall we fired our chef, and put a female pie molder on the job. She has been with us since the beginning of the term, and so far we all seem to be quite satisfied; at any rate the waiters have to drag out many a tray-load of "seconds." Her supreme quality is her weakness to a hungry guy's plea between meals, when, often as not, she'll deal out a generous wedge of that good ole apple pie.

Gamma Beta

University of California

Gamma Beta chapter opened the semester with a lot of new-found spirit and enthusiasm. Under the capable leadership of Master Luther, an ambitious program was launched. As a result of this new lease on life, the chapter considers itself fortunate in pledging ten good men to the fraternity. They are William Barnes, George Devine, William Cole, Walter Hunter, Alfred Lingo, Jack Martin, Neil McIntyre, Robert Klitgaard, George Mackey, and Ben Warmer. After having associated with the new pledges for a few months, the members feel very fortunate in having men of such calibre to add to the personnel.

There has been a social event on the chapter's calendar every weekend of the semester so far. Two semi-formal dances and several radio dances have satisfied the dancing interests of the chapter. A Father-Faculty-Student dinner was pronounced a success and made new friends for the fraternity among the faculty and our own parents. A Mothers' Tea laid the foundation for a most successful card party and dance.

Prior to the U.S.C. football game, a mammoth celebration was held in the chapter house. Varsity boxers and wrestlers performed, and a quartet from the glee club rendered some numbers. Many good alumni rallied around to the affair.

Gamma Beta felt a tremendous increase in campus prestige as a result of the announcement of fraternity scholarship averages for last year. We stood fifth in the list of fifty fraternities on the campus. In fact, if it had not been for one "weak sister" we would have been first. As it was, however, our position was something to be proud of.

Delta Beta Muhlenberg College

Delta Beta chapter held a very successful rush season with a dance in the Rainbow ballroom of the Hotel Americus and a peppy smoker at the chapter house. As a result ten men were pledged and two repledged. The new men pledged include the following: Louis Hibbien, '37, William Griffin, '37, Sam Schadt, '37, Jack Labold, '37, Carl Tilwick, '37, Francis Knauss, '37, Nelson Bramer, '36, Lloyd Sandt, '36, John Kanyuck, '35, and Roy Siegel, '34. The following two men were repledged: Walter Harland and Paul Matthieson.

Ralph G. Keepert, '34, generously donated a ping pong table. Recently the chapter also secured a fine Brunswick pool table.

Delta Beta chapter is fortunate in having a very active mothers' club which has recently added several new pieces of furniture to the house.

Zeta Beta Monmouth College

The first social activity of the season was the annual rushing party of Zeta Beta chapter at which the alumni and actives entertained the prospective pledges with a theater party and supper after the show. Following supper, the prospects listened to a brief informal address by John McAllister, one of the founders of the local chapter, in which he told the history of the organization and some of its aims and ideals.

The second social event was an alumni dinner held in conjunction with Homecoming, following which the alumni enjoyed a period of reminiscences and a brief business meeting.

Zeta Beta chapter received her share of pledges this year. Six freshmen and one senior have accepted pledge pins. They are: Sam Baker, Robert Brimmer, James Cheverton, Keith Oneal, Lester Morrow, Orville Messenger, all freshmen; and Richard Heil, senior.

T.U.O. also came to the front at Homecoming and won second prize for the most beautifully decorated house.

Eta Beta Alabama Polytechnic Institute

Eta Beta chapter is glad to announce that it has nine new pledges, as follows: B. S. Bishop, Richard Duffel, Noel Jackson, H. Lyon, E. W. McKean, P. Owens, S. Schweber, Jack Spice-land, and H. B. Terry.

Four members were initiated into the Eta Beta chapter in October. They are Howard Blair, '36; Claude Jones, '34; G. R. Meadows, '34; and Richard M. Steere, '35.

Four new men have been elected to fill offices left vacant by men who failed to return to school. They are Claude Murray, marshal; Walter Smith, chaplain; Richard Steere, herald; and Claude Jones, outer guard.

Theta Beta Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

Several of the brothers from Beta Alpha chapter came over for the Worcester R.P.I. football game of November 11. A dance was given in their honor. Arthur F. Green, '34, was in charge of arrangements and decorations, which were appropriate for Armistice Day.

The season in interfraternity athletics started well, when Harry C. Jaecker, '34, and Frederick J. Lupke, '35, won our league in horseshoe pitching.

The Reverend Mr. Walter Cowen of Delta Beta chapter, who lives in a suburb of Troy, has paid several visits to our house as a result of a "blessed event" for which he received our hearty congratulations.

Theta Alpha

Aldis Christie, '32, graduated for-ester, has been forced to spend several weeks in the Hayes Memorial Hospital at Dover.

He was one of the fortunate few who obtained positions after graduation. We hope he is soon able to return to his work.

Walter Jenkins, '31, one of New England's foremost young musicians and composers, recently underwent a severe operation on his ear which necessitated the puncturing of the ear drum. At the present writing he is convalescing rapidly. Ironically enough, Walter's mother was seriously injured in an automobile accident while enroute to see her son who was in the Hayes Hospital at Dover, New Hampshire.

Elroy Clark, our last year's master, is now a student at B.U. Law School.

Woodrow Bartlett, '36, is employed by the Merrimac Farmers County Exchange at Concord, New Hampshire.

Wilbourn Schofield, '35, is at Cornell University.

Clifford Parkinson, '35, is at home.

Morey Howe, '35, is working for his father as a carpenter.

Richard Nielson, '36, is at the Webb Institution of Naval Architecture, New York City.

Charles Bailey, '36, has transferred to Northeastern.

Richard Brown, '34, is working in Plymouth, New Hampshire.

Charles Brown, '32, is connected with the C. C. C. near Keene, New Hampshire.

John Hennessey, '35, is working in Jenesco, Illinois.

John "Holy Joe" Weeks, '35, is employed in Elmwood, Illinois.

Henry Bell, '34, is manager of the Horseshoe Tavern in Hopkinton, New Hampshire.

Gamma Beta

Robert Quigley, '24, is the newly appointed chief accountant for the C.C.C. northern division of California.

Harold "Bee" Gilmore, '30, has advanced rapidly since he secured a position with the El Dorado Oil Company (cocoanut oil). He is now chief chemist and has had experience in every department of the plant. We understand he is being trained for the possibility of an outpost position.

Erling Thermod, '32, has been working for some time with Pierce and Company, stock and bond firm.

Ray Gilmore, '30, is at present on a zoology trip in the mountains back of Fresno, California. He will be away for three months, and when he returns he plans to accompany an expedition to South America.

Arthur Werner, '33, following his graduation from the college of mining, secured a position with the Comstock people in Nevada. We understand that he is now a mine tester.

Eyvind Holtermann, '32, after having successfully completed the training and examinations at March Field and Randolph Field in Texas is now a commissioned officer. He is on duty at Crissy Field in San Francisco.

Delta Beta

On November fourth, Muhlenberg played her traditional rival, Franklin and Marshall. It was an important occasion on the Muhlenberg campus. inasmuch as Dad's Day was observed for the first time and Homecoming was celebrated for the alumni. Several of the T.U.O. alumni and Executive Secretary Danehower were present.

Brothers Hock, '32, and Creveling, '30, spoke at the smoker at the chapter house. Brother Hock has recently been appointed an instructor in public speaking at the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania.

Zeta Beta

Among news of the alumni we find that William Lyons, '29, who is instructor of journalism in the Monmouth high school, was married during the summer.

James McDonald, '32, is attending a seminary this year, and Albert Sloan is studying law at Harvard. Vernon Hoerner, '31, is attending school in Chicago and James and John Thompson are working in a battery factory this year.

Paul Heil is working in the post-office in Marissa, Illinois. Virgil Boucher, '32, is coaching and teaching at Setaon, Illinois, and Cecil Estes is teaching school in Kentucky. Theodore Shoberg is married and coaching at Murphysboro.

Eta Beta

Solon Dixon, '26, was recently injured in an airplane crash. He lost control of his plane while attempting to land at the Opelika Airport. His left arm was crushed and a slight concussion of the brain developed, but he is now at home, and is rapidly improving.

A. L. Smith, '29, has returned to Notasulga to take up his teaching duties.

Harold S. Williams, '33, is now working in Akron, Ohio.

John A. Carmack, '33, is now practicing pharmacy at the Tiger Drug Store in Auburn.

Earl Fleming, '30, is teaching school in Coffee County, Alabama.

W. H. Little, '32, is running a drug store in Linden, Alabama.

G. V. Nunn, '32, has returned to his schoolteaching duties in Gordo, Alabama.

H. B. Lawson, '32, is now teaching and coaching at Winder, Georgia.

W. S. Wallace, '32, received his master's degree last spring at Auburn.

Personal Mention

At Worcester, Brother "Bugs" Burns will be the manager of this year's basketball team and R. P. Merriam will be the assistant manager.

L. Dix Robbins is in charge of the Fencing Club again this year.

The soccer team is well backed by Beta Alpha pledges. Pledges Hebel, Luce, and Gurnham are outstanding players this season.

C. S. Frary and J. E. Guild are two of the strong men on Worcester Tech's cross country team. Brother Frary was the first Tech man to finish in the recent meet with Massachusetts State, following two crack Staters throughout.

Donald P. Gilbert, '35, has been elected assistant manager of Rensselaer's varsity cross country team.

The Stevens varsity soccer team's success during the past season was largely due to the work of three Gamma Alpha men. Arthur Reichard, '35, and Pledges William Salvatori, '35, and Thomas Tarzy, '35, were the mainstays of the Red and Gray, and took part in many brilliantly executed plays. Reichard and Tarzy held a practical monopoly on the scoring of goals. Salvatori was the nemesis of the opposing teams' offensive efforts. In his position at left fullback he broke up many a march toward the Stevens goal, sending the ball well down to the other part of the playing field. It was not until he was forced by injury to leave the Lehigh game that the Pennsylvanians were able to win in an overtime period.

Reichard and Tarzy played at the outside left and inside right positions, respectively. They formed a real scoring threat whenever the ball was in play in their territory, through their excellent passing, and the former's corner kicks.

Horace G. Oliver, '35, was a member of the junior varsity soccer team at Stevens this fall.

Stephen Baksa, '36, made the varsity baseball team in his first year at Stevens.

William Salvatori, a pledge from the ranks of the junior class, is one of the leading men on the Stevens campus, both in point of scholarship and in extra-curricular activities. He is a member of the honorary fraternity, Gear and Triangle, and has been on the Dean's List each year that he has been in college. He made the jayvee soccer team in his freshman year, and has been on the varsity for the past two seasons. "Sal" has also been well known for his playing on the lacrosse team, having been on the jayvee as a freshman, and the varsity as a Sophomore. He has been prominent in baseball and interclass football, and was victorious as his class representative in the heavyweight division of last year's Cane Srees. He was chairman of the Calculus Cremation Committee last spring.

T.U.O. men were prominent on the football team that won for the class of 1935 the title of champions of Stevens Institute this fall. Arthur Reichard, William Salvatori, Horace Oliver and Thomas Tarzy played. Edward Otocka was prevented from participating by an ailing knee.

The final game of the series was played against the highly touted seniors, champions of last year. The final score of 20-0 indicates the size of the beating that was administered them. Salvatori was in the backfield, and was responsible for two of the three touchdowns scored. His rushes could not be stopped by the men of '34, and he was in turn able to put an end to many a run on the part of a senior. Oliver played at guard, and Reichard was at right end. They managed to stop the opposition in its tracks whenever attempts were made to pierce their positions for gains. The most spectacular play of the game was a long pass from midfield, Salvatori to Reichard. The latter took the pass just as he was about to be forced out of bounds within a few yards of the goal line. "Sal" then made the score on a long end run.

At Zeta Beta Thomas Whelan, one of the pledges, is a member of the varsity football team, and is going strong. Due to the number of Zeta Beta's pledges on the freshman football team at Monmouth, T.U.O. was unable to put a team into intramural competition this year, but expects to have teams entered in the basketball and volleyball tournaments.

Duane Luther, master of Gamma Beta chapter, is one of the officials of the new intramural system inaugurated this year at the University of California. He assists in coaching basketball teams, and umpires many of the basketball games.

Jack Yates, '35, is one of Coach Ky Ebright's (he of the Olympic coaching fame) promising oarsmen. Yates has managed to keep himself in either the first or the second boats in the fall workout down at the Oakland estuary. Pledge Jack Martin, also of Gamma Beta, is one of the most promising men out for crew this year. It looks as though Martin will be in the running for a berth on the Varsity this year. George Mackey is one of the candidates for end position on Coach Bill Ingram's varsity football team. Mackey has played in several of the games this year and, although handicapped by a knee injury, is considered a very promising player. All of the other Gamma Beta pledges are out for some activity, most of them athletic. George Devine promises to be the leading singles player on this year's frosh tennis team. He was runnerup in a recent campus tennis tournament. He looks for some competition from Pledge Cole. Al Lingo is playing first-string fullback on the freshman soccer team. Bob Klitgaard is one of the center prospects on the freshman football squad, and Bill Barnes is out for the cross country team.

Ray Groller, E A '34, is the head manager of this year's Temple football team. Woodrow Wilson, '35, is assistant manager. Also on the managerial staff are Henry Westenburger, '36, and Pledge Harold Griffiths, '37. Willard Jones, '34, of Epsilon Alpha, has been appointed head manager of the baseball squad for the coming season. Ferman McFerran, '35, is manager of Coach Ogden's ace frosh track squad for its coming season at Temple.

The Stevens Dramatic Society is still densely populated by Gamma Alpha men. The Fall Show, "The Adding Machine," included Thomas Carvill and Hugh Mills among its cast. The former took the role of a young gentleman of doubtful character, and the latter was a lieutenant in the ranks of the inhabitants of that pleasant place the ministers promise as a reward to all good boys and girls.

Paul T. Kaestner, '35, was stage manager for the production, and Daniel F. Hoth, '35, was sound technician. Brother Carvill was lighting engineer, and Peter deBruyn, '34, was also a member of the lighting department. Pledge brother Prince was on the crew.

Peter deBruyn, '34, was the writer of an editorial that caused much controversy on the Stevens campus. It dealt with the reasons for which the Fall Show had been criticized, and almost resulted in warfare at the subsequent faculty meetings. Supporters of his arguments and their opponents were able to live up to the title of the article, which was "Controversy." The question raised was whether the show was obscene, profane, and morbid, or a real dramatic achievement which was misinterpreted by those who disliked it.

At Stevens, Thomas D. R. Carvill, '34, was a member of the committee in charge of preparations for the annual Freshman Welcome Dance held by the Student Council in the latter part of November. Arthur Blirer, '35, was recently elected Class Historian.

This year, Delta Beta is fortunate in having the editorship of the Muhlenberg Weekly and the presidency of the Interfraternity Council, with H. Edward Krooss, '34, and Robert H. Dilcher, '34, holding these respective offices.

At Worcester, C. E. Leech and T. C. Frary were elected to the staff of the Tech News.

T.U.O. is represented on the staff of the Monmouth College student publication, the Oracle, with Robert Brimmer on the sport staff and James Cheverton as literary critic.

Joseph Shinn, Epsilon Alpha, '34, is doing a very capable job as editor of the Temple University News. Associated with him are Malcolm Webb, '36, and Mark Herrold, '36. J. Kenneth Satchell, '34, is a prominent member of the Handbook staff, the Templar staff, and also is an officer in Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalistic society.

Charles S. Frary, Jr., of Beta Alpha chapter, was recently honored by being tapped for the Skull, honorary society at Worcester.

R. P. Merriam, '35, was recently re-elected to the office of treasurer of Worcester's junior class, while L. G. Humphrey, Jr., was elected for the third time historian of the same class.

B. W. Appleton, H B '34, was recently elected to Blue Key and Omicron Delta Kappa at Auburn, and Dallas Batchelder, '34, was pledged to Alpha Psi, national veterinary honor society.

John Hill, master of Eta Alpha chapter, has been recently elected vice-president of Delta Phi Epsilon, foreign service fraternity. John Walstrom was elected treasurer. Brother Walstrom is also Interfraternity Council delegate, captain of the bowling team, and steward of Eta Alpha chapter.

Leslie Pike of Theta Alpha was recently honored by election to the Sphinx, an honorary society at New Hampshire. William Hancock is also a member.

George Murray of Theta Alpha, a junior officer in the New Hampshire R.O.T.C., has accepted a bid from Scabbard and Blade.

William Celmens, '37, a pledge of Zeta Alpha chapter, was elected to Cap and Dagger, Bucknell's dramatic society, after appearing in "The Royal Family."

Ralph J. James, '34, is the secretary of the Forestry Club at the U. of C. John H. Taylor is secretary of the University Y. M. C. A.

William Jiles, E A '34, is treasurer of the Interfraternity Council at Temple this year. He also has charge of the finances of the school Y. M. C. A. At the present time he is suffering from a bump received when he stepped into the path of a speeding car on Park Avenue. Bucky received injuries to his leg and also cuts on his face and head. His condition is not serious, but he is having a good deal of trouble getting about.

Lowell Broomall, '34, is president of the Temple chapter of Blue Key. He has been instrumental in organizing the cheering section. Broomall is also a member of the newly appointed Student Commission, Temple University's substitute for the New Deal.

Frederick R. Hock, Θ B '36, has been appointed by the committee for the Sophomore Soiree, the outstanding social function of the year at Rensselaer.

Harry Wightman, '35, is manager of the Bucknell University Symphony Orchestra.
